2. Background: The next University Presidents Day is tentatively scheduled for 15 February. [REDACTED] tells me she has put aside this date and you would be free. Eleven of the people you invited have accepted for that day. They are:

Thomas A. Bartlett	Association of American Universities
James Edward Cheek	Howard University
Richard Michael Cyert	Carnegie-Mellon University
Frederick Davison	University of Georgia
Robert Crocker Good	Denison University
William R. Harvey	Hampton Institute
Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh	University of Notre Dame
Philip G. Hoffman	University of Houston
George Michael Low	Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute
Robert William MacVicar	Oregon State University
Jean Mayer	Tufts University

In addition, Dr. William Hagerty, Drexel University, is trying to rearrange his schedule so that he will be able to attend the meeting.

3. The eleven who have accepted are highly articulate, energetic and represent a good cross section of the academic community. The number of participants is the largest we have yet entertained and equals the number that have attended the three previous sessions.

4. The tentative program is similar to those previously run (see attached). Because of the comparatively large number of participants, we have lengthened the time allotted for Directorate briefings. In addition, the opening session with you is being moved from your ante-room to the DCI Conference Room and lunch will be held in the EDR instead of your dining room.
